

As the Rain Falls

Beneath thickening skies
Beyond the skin of lies
One sparks glows true a diamond in the rough

Kaleidoscopic eyes
Fade to black and white
Come the end of time, nothing left to see

As the rain falls
Somewhere in time
Does the sun still shine?
Does the sun still shine for you and me?

From a sky of stone, tomorrow falls so slow
Like a blackened rose, destiny is fragile

Like a dandelion
Lovers in my life
Drift away like wind and disappear through time

As the rain falls etc.

All I ask is the setting sun, for one last glass of ruby wine
And the road that leads home to you, I need to feel your hand in mine

As the rain falls etc

As the rain falls 5X
If i could turn back time
