

Lady Citizen of the Sky

The harp is singing stories of an ancient love
All the stars are frozen in the sky
I am all around you like the night against your skin
Your hand takes the form of mine

You are like the honey earth i am like the sun
First impressions never lie
My fingers slip into your silent places
So deeply my love is like a vine

The sun is falling you can hear him cry
Hear him crying for the moon
He longs to see her as she lifts her face
Lady citizen of the sky

The flaming gates are closing in the city of the sun
The mist upon the hill is like a dream
Open all the windows now the night parade's begun
Across the northern sky, come talk to me

You are the last road home my love
Hear me closer with each step above
I long to kiss your face, and fly to your side
Lady citizen of the sky

Ooo and it feels like rain
Ooo aah i wanna feel this way again

My heart is beating like an ancient drum
Lead me down into the setting sun
I long to kiss your face and fly to your side
Lady citizen of the sky

Ooo aai Ooo lelai
Will you look at me and gaze into my eyes?
Lady citizen of the sky, Lady citizen of the sky
