

Undying Love

I love you not just for today
But for tomorrow and yesterday
I love you now and for all time
I am yours , you are mine

With open hearts we speak in tongues
The secret language of our love
Yours are the smiling eyes I'm waiting here to see
Still your no stranger to my dreams

Undying love is so much more than real
In every breath you take, it's all you touch and feel
And when i look into your eyes, you will feel that spark
Ah, but I will wait for you love, in the temple of my heart

This kind of love exists for sure
When she comes knocking on your door
Slips into your dream and sweats you like a cure
You may wonder if she's been there once or twice before

Undying love

solo

And if it takes me all my life
To give my love to you feels right
No matter where you go, no matter what you do
You will hear my voice calling, calling out to you

because, Undying Love

I'm waiting here for you
